Better value for money at Welsh Premier clubs

Following the announcement on Thursday that Newport County's cheapest season ticket (£300) is more expensive than an equivalent ticket at the Etihad Stadium (£275) - the Corbett Sports Welsh Premier League is calling on football fans to give their games a go this weekend.

The most expensive match-day ticket is only £7 - and the cheapest full priced ticket is only £5 at Park Avenue in Aberystwyth. They host the champions TNS on Friday and as club media officer Aneurin Venables explains:

"We want a good atmosphere at our home games and want to make each match-day an enjoyable and affordable event for fans - in the hope that they'll return time and time again.

An adult will only pay £5 to watch the game, a cup of tea will only cost you 80p and you can buy a pie for £2 - so the whole evening can cost you less than £10."

Port Talbot, who's season ticket holders only paid £90 for the privilege at the start of the season are offering a 'Bring a friend for free' initiative to their game against Bangor City on Saturday.

Carmarthen Town offered the cheapest season ticket at the beginning of the campaign - only £70.

Corbett Sport Welsh Premier League Secretary Gwyn Derfel urged people, who haven't been to a WPL game yet to support their closest club this weekend:

"The standard of football in our league deserves better support. Former Wales international Ryan Green who has been playing for Hereford for the past three years but is now representing Port Talbot has stated that the standard of the WPL compares very favourably with League Two.

I urge people to give our League a go. It's affordable, family friendly football which is worth watching and supporting." See table below for full survey

Welsh Premier stalwart passes away

From www.newtownafc.co.uk

It is with much sadness that we hear of the death of one of the locality's best known and most committed football personality. Garth Williams who owned The Lion Hotel, Newtown, died whilst working at the pub on Saturday afternoon.

He was the Welsh Premier League area representative for Mid-Wales, acting in his capacity as Chairman of Caersws who were then members of the WPL. He was also a board member with the League and was the Chairman of the prestigious FAW Premier Cup.

At seventy-two years of age, Garth was famous for his support of Caersws FC, for which he was Chairman for ten years from 1996 until he finished with the club in 2006. He was hugely popular in the football world and was in charge at the village club when the side enjoyed their most sustained period of success, culminating in an exciting foray into European football when they travelled to Bulgaria in 2002, and only narrowly lost over the two legs.

A major benefactor to Caersws, Garth switched his allegiance to Llanidloes FC five years ago, when his business partner and former Caersws stalwart, Anthony Griffiths became their team Manager.

He was a good friend to us all at Newtown, and fought our corner on several occasions when we had issues with the League or FAW. He was also a frequent match sponsor over the years at Latham Park.

He will be mourned by many and be sadly missed.

Funeral details: - Funeral Service at All Saints Church, Newtown on Thursday 25th October at 2pm followed by interment at Newtown Cemetery. Family flowers, donations if desired to The British Heart Foundation or All Saints Church. Enquiries to M. Jones & Son Funeral Directors, 01686 412883.

Paddy's record will stand for years

From www.atfc.org.uk

Glyndwr Hughes' terrific headed goal at Prestatyn on Saturday, which earned the Seasiders a vital point, underlined his position as the Black and Greens' all-time leading Welsh Premier League goalscorer.

The strike took Paddy to 104 Welsh Premier goals, putting him well clear of Gavin Allen and club director Kevin Morrison - both of whom retired a few years ago. Glyndwr's nearest contenders among those still plying their trade are four players who have now left Park Avenue, Luke Sherbon (48), Geoff Kellaway (32), Luke Bowen (17) and Ricky Evans (16), so it looks like his reign at the top of the Black and Greens WPL scorechart will last for years to come.

The flame haired forward from Bont has never played for another Welsh Premier League club, and his swashbuckling playing style and laid back, approachable nature has ensured he has been a fans favourite since making his debut for Aber Town back in 1993/4.

Club Chairman Tony Bates said: "Paddy really is a living legend and the way he's playing at the moment I expect his goal tally to rise exponentially!"

For the record, Aber Town's all time WPL highest goalscorers are: Glyndwr Hughes (104), Gavin Allen (93), Kevin Morrison (85), Luke Sherbon (48), Andy Evans (44), Geoff Kellaway (32), Martyn Griffiths and Anthony Wright (28), Ryan Nicholls (27) & Jonathan Williams (25).

Mid-Wales heroes enter Hall of Fame

Two Mid Wales giants of the WPL were inducted into the Hall of Fame on Saturday.

They join Marc Lloyd Williams in the newly formed Welsh Premier League Hall of Fame.

Colin Reynolds - holds the record for the most appearances in the Welsh Premier League – 528 games between 1992 and 2009. Reynolds is the only player to have started over 500 games in the league.

Reynolds, pictured below right, was a cornerstone of the Newtown defence in the 90s, as part of Brian Coyne's side that finished second in the league twice, in 1996 and 1998. He represented the team in Europe as captain and played over 300 games for Newtown.

Reynolds wore the Robins' red shirt for over a decade, from the league's first season in 1992 until he moved to near-neighbours Caersws in 2002.

He became a loyal servant to Caersws for six seasons, where he was the first player to reach 400 league appearances in 2005 and after joining Aberystwyth in 2008, he was the first – and so far the only – player to start 500 games in the Welsh Premier League.

A strong but fair player, he spent his entire career playing in mid Wales and he stills turns out for local team Llanidloes, at 44 years old.

According to the history books, Andrew Thomas is the most loyal player in the history of the league, having played over 400 games for the same club, Caersws.

Thomas, left in the photo frame, went through the Bluebirds' youth sides before playing for the first team in the Welsh Premier League for fifteen seasons.

Under manager Mickey Evans, Thomas was captain at the heart of the defence in a team that won the League Cup three times between 2001 and 2007.

Caersws consistently finished in the top five during that golden period and the club – and Thomas – played their first European games in 2002, representing Wales in the Intertoto Cup.

Thomas transferred to Newtown in 2008 and spent two seasons playing for the club, before finishing his career as the player with the second highest number of appearances in the league's history.

3 Million Euro striker sinks Wales Semi-pros

Surcan Yildirim, a three million Euro signing for Galatasaray scored twice as Turkey eliminated Wales from the International Challenge Trophy on Tuesday evening.

Despite the 5-0 scoreline, the Welsh side were on a par with their visitors but a goal from Surcan in first-half injury time was a real blow for Terry Boyle's side.

Wales were unable to stamp their early authority, with TNS's Chris Jones and Newport County debutant Ben Swallow creating opportunities to establish a positive lead during the opening fifteen minutes. Jones' far-post volley after a well worked move from the back went the wrong side of the far upright, but the chance was a real confidence booster for the rest of the half. But, it was Turkey who struck twice, either side of the interval, as Galatasaray's Surcan showed quick feet and clinical finishing to beat Bangor's Lee Idzi twice. An additional three late goals during a six minute period were all equally clinical after the Welsh side made changes, with Newtown's Shane Sutton, Llanelli's Ashley Evans and Port Talbot's own David Brooks all making their debuts.

Team manager Terry Boyle then spoke with Robert Clement about the performance and outcome against their highly talented and quick thinking opponents.

“As you mentioned, at the end of the first forty five we were unfortunate to be a goal down, it was right on the stroke of half-time, but still saying that, I was proud of the lads with the performance they put in, considering we’ve introduced four new players into the squad for this game, but also the opposition we’ve played, they were the professional players from the national league, with them coming from the second team, so we knew that it was going to be a tall order, but I think that the boy’s acquitted themselves very well in the first forty five, with us being unfortunate to be 1-0 down”.

Boyle added. “The second half, it’s contrasting with regards, compared to the first half, I knew that that with the four new players, as what I’ve done in the past, with it being a semi-professional competition from our point of view, I like to make sure that the boys get an appearance, so they’re entitled to receive an international cap”.

“That sort of disrupted a few things with five changes in total; whereas they scored three goals in that period in a counter attack fashion. But in saying that during the final stage we adjusted, we got back and could have nicked a couple of goals ourselves, but as I say, I’m proud of the lads I couldn’t ask for any more, not only playing the opposition we had, but obviously the way they acquitted themselves in the game tonight”.

Andy Legg linked with return to Bluebirds

by Terry Phillips, South Wales Echo

CARDIFF City have officially launched their search for a new youth academy manager – and former Bluebirds favourite Andy Legg could be among those considered.

Legg, 46, was in the Bluebirds team promoted to the Championship in 2003 and is now manager of Welsh Premier League Llanelli, who are facing financial problems.

Legg was preparing for Llanelli’s Welsh Premier home match against Afan Lido at Stebonheath Park and was not available for comment.

Cardiff need a new academy manager following the departure of Neal Ardley to take charge at League Two AFC Wimbledon. Ardley’s assistant Geraint Twose is interim manager.

Cardiff’s head of recruitment Iain Moody is leading the search for Ardley’s replacement, while club manager Malky Mackay will be heavily involved in the process.

Mackay’s aim is to ensure there is a smooth path for young players from the youngest levels within the academy through to the first team.

Former City midfielder player Kevin Cooper is under-21 development team manager.

Joe Ralls, Theo Wharton and Declan John are among the teenagers currently in Cooper’s under-21 squad.

The job description for the role of academy manager includes overseeing the under-21, under-18, under-16 and all younger squads at the club.

“The successful applicant must have significant coaching experience, hold a Uefa A coaching licence and also ideally hold a current Academy manager’s licence,” says Cardiff City’s job advert.

“The candidate must also have well established experience of leading a diverse and dynamic team.”

The Last Word

from Gwyn Derfel

Another really exciting weekend on the pitch and another frustrating one off it regarding general media coverage.

Many column inches were devoted to inflated season ticket prices and value for money for football fans - but the vast majority of media outlets overlooked the Corbett Sports Welsh Premier League completely once again.

An adult would have been charged £5 entry to Park Avenue on Friday evening and while sipping an excellent cup of tea for only 80p would have been royally entertained by a competitive match and five goals. You could also have witnessed five goals for Airbus on Friday as they shouted from the rooftops that they are genuine title contenders this season.

It is time for our league to be given a little more credit for the standard of football and value for money it produces.

While tomorrow's heroes are in the making - it was really nice to see two giants of Mid Wales football be inducted into the WPL Hall of Fame on Saturday. It is also great to see that Andrew Thomas and Colin Reynolds are still in love with our great game as they still contribute to football in Mid Wales by turning out for Carno and Llanidloes respectively. Gentlemen - congratulations and thanks.

It will be interesting to see how many media outlets report this good WPL story in their publications this week.

Y Gair Olaf

Penwythnos cyffrous arall ar y meysydd chwarae - a rhwystredigaeth unwaith yn rhagor am ddiffyg sylw cadarnhaol i'n Cynghrair.

Gwnaed arolwg o brisiau tocynnau tymor yn ystod yr wythnos ac anwybyddwyd UGC fwy na heb yn llwyr yn y gwaith ymchwil er bod ein Cynghrair yn cynnig cynnyrch o safon sy'n fforddiadwy.

Nos Wener am £5 byddai unrhyw oedolyn wedi cael mynediad i Goedlan y Parc ac am 80c yn ychwanegol wrth sipian paned ardderchog o de byddent wedi cael eu diddanu gan Aber a'r Seintiau a phump o goliau. Gwerth am arian ? Wrth gwrs.

Nos Wener ym Mrychdyn am bris eitha' tebyg gallech fod wedi tystio pump o goliau gan Airbus hefyd - wrth iddyn nhw gyhoeddi'n gwbl groch eu bod yn cynnig her gwirioneddol i'r lleill am y bencampwriaeth y tymor yma.

Ydi wir mae'n amser i UGC gael ychydig mwy o barch a bri am safon ein Cynghrair a'r prisiau mynediad hynod gystadleuol.

Ddydd Sadwrn - braf iawn oedd dysgu bod dau o weision ffyddlon UGC yn y canolbarth wedi eu hychwanegu at Oriol yr Anfarwolion. Braf iawn hefyd yw nodi bod Andrew Thomas a Colin Reynolds yn dal i chwarae'n wythnosol i Garno a Llanidloes. Arwyr lleol go iawn.

Bydd hi'n hynod ddiddorol nodi faint o sylw gaiff y stori gampus hon gan y wasg Gymreig yr wythnos hon.
